ARTIST IS PRESIDENT

Charles Dana Gibson Heads Village Improvement At Dark Harbor.

At the annual meeting of the Dark Harbor Village Improvement society, Charles Dana Gibson, the well known artist and owner of Life, was elected president to succeed Theodore Frothingham of Boston, Mass., formerly of Philadelphia, Pa., who has held the office for several years and given a good deal of time and thought to the work. Miss Dorothy Forbes of Boston, Mass., succeeds George Lewis of Boston, Mass., as vice president, and George Tiffany of St. Louis, succeeds William Ellis Scull as secretary. David H. Smith, proprietor of the Islesboro Inn, was re-elected treasurer. Miss Forbes was elected chairman of the executive committee which also includes Mrs. F. O. Beach of New York, Mrs. Maitland Alexander and Mrs. Frank S. Willock of Pittsburgh, Pa.

The object of the society is to "preserve the natural beauties of the island, to secure needed improvements and to promote the health and well-being of the community." To this end the officers are glad of any suggestions from members. All residents and summer visitors are eligible to membership and two general meetings are held during the season, one in July and one in August.

THE NEW UNION BANK

Should Be Heartily Welcomed By Farm Bureau Members, Says County Agent Gowell.

The Farm Bureau members in the northern part of Knox county should very heartily welcome the new bank, a branch of the Security Trust Company in Union. This bank, as a branch of a large bank, can be of great service to the farmers if they will take advantage of it.

A bank is a great deal more than a place to deposit money on a savings account, or a place to get checks cashed, and it is a place where a farmer who does not understand the function of the bank to call in and see Mr. Williams the manager, in order that he may learn the many ways by which he can use the bank.

The bank officials have very kindly offered the use of their private office for conferences with farmers, and arrangements can be made with him to meet them there when it is necessary. Some very important questions have arisen recently, so that negotiations are pending whereby the bank will cooperate with the farmers in a very material way for mutual advantage.—Farm Bureau News.

MAY KEEP JOBS

Post Office Employees Affected by Retirement Act to Work Two Years Longer.

A change in the application of the Postal Retirement Act of May 22, has been made and was recently received by Postmaster Donohue at the local postoffice. Postal employees, who would have been automatically retired on pension without qualification or appeal, may now apply for retention for a period of at least two more years if they so desire. The reversal of the original order quotes Section six of the act of May 22, which says, in part: "If, by reason of his or her efficiency and willingness to remain in the civil service of the United States, the continuance of such employee therein would be advantageous to the public service, such employee may be retained for a term not exceeding two years upon approval and certification of the civil service commission."

ABOUT SUGAR

Present Prices Make Cuba a Land of More Than Fabulous Riches.

Sugar, like shoes, we once took for granted. Now procuring enough for the preserving season may be a problem and sugar "speaks easily" are not uncommon in lands where the supply is rationed. Writing to the National Geographic Society, William Joseph Showalter says:

With a sugar production nearly doubled and prices more than quadrupled since 1912, one can readily see why Cuba is the world's El Dorado of 1920, and why sugar is its king. The imagination is almost overpowered in attempting to comprehend the vast proportions of the sugar industry of the island as it exists this year.

The cane produced is of such tremendous volume that a procession of bull teams, four abreast, reaching around the earth, would be required to move it. The crop would suffice to build a solid wall around the entire two thousand miles of the island's coast-line as high as an ordinary dwelling house and thick enough for a file of four men to walk abreast on it.

The sugar extracted from this cane would load a fleet of steamers reaching from Havana to New York, with a ship for every mile of the twelve hundred that stretch between the two ports. The great pyramid of Cheops, before whose awe-inspiring proportions millions of people have stood and gazed in open-mouthed amazement, remains, after five thousand years, unrivaled as a monumental pile; but Cuba's sugar output this year would make two pyramids, each outbasing and overtopping Cheops.

The wealth the outgoing sugar crop brings in is not less remarkable in its proportions. Four hundred dollars out of a single crop for every human being who lives on the island—a sum almost as great as the per capita wealth produced by all the farms, all the factories, and all the mines of the United States.

What wonder, then, that Cuba today is a land of gold and gems, richer than Midas ever was, converting Croesus, by contrast, into a beggar!

Sugar-cane is grown by three classes of planters in Cuba. Perhaps the major part of the crop is grown by share farmers, or "colonos," as they are called. The owners of the sugar-mills furnish them with a given number of acres of land to plant and give them an agreed share of the sugar they produce.

The next class is composed of the land-owning farmers, who grow their own cane and have it ground on shares, after the fashion of the rural grist-mill. The remainder of the cane is grown by the owners of the mills themselves. At some central the "administration" cane, as that grown under "central" management is known, amounts to only 4 per cent of the total; at others it amounts to 30 per cent. Even the share farmer, at present prices, made money. According to "Cuba Before the World," the official handbook of the Republic at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, when sugar was selling at 3.62 cents a pound, his share of the sugar brought him, on the basis of twelve sacks to the acre, a return of from $46 to $51 per acre. The return of the planter owning his land was from $56 to $61 per acre. When in 1920 as it was then, the size of the per-acre income today is apparent.

How much net profit the cane-grower reaps at 1920 prices is hard to estimate, but that it is large will grow when the methods of cane-growing are stated. To begin with, after the first crop this planter does not have to bother with seed-time for about ten years. The soil is so deep and so fertile that one planting produces ten harvests. Neither does cultivation bother him after the first season, for the blades stripped from one crop form a mulch that keeps the weeds from competing with the next one.

Think of the profits that the American farmer would make out of corn if he could get ten crops from one planting, and did not have to plow nine of them at all to keep down the weeds!

Another item in the low cost of producing sugar is the cheapness of the motive power. The cane is hauled in ox-carts. The oxen live from six to ten months a year on the blades stripped from the harvested stalks, and the remainder of the year on succulent guinea-grass. Think how prosperous would be the American farmer if he could have animal motive power requiring not a pound of grain to feed it!

TRYING TO AID THEM

Ex-Service Men Entitled To Benefits Of Which They Should Not Remain Ignorant.

One of the interesting addresses delivered before the second annual convention of the Maine Department of the American Legion, was that of Harry Burlingame, a former A. E. F. man, in charge of the New England Division of the Bureau of War Insurance. Mr. Burlingame is a charter member of the George Washington Post, the first post of the Legion established in this country.

He said that the Director of the Bureau, Co. R. G. Cholmeley-Jones, who is also an A. E. F. officer, is anxious to see that every man who was physically harmed by his participation in the war is aware of the fact that the government will grant him free medical and hospital treatment, and, in addition, thereto, pay him compensation for his service disability, so long as such disability exists. If he be totally or temporarily disabled he is entitled to as high as $80 per month so long as this rating is given to him; if he have dependents, as wife, children, mother or father, he is allowed extra, or additional compensation for them.

Should the disability be total and permanent the ex-service man is entitled to $100 per month for life. The Government maintains hospitals all over the country for the treatment of its disabled veterans, and every effort is made by the Director to give each man, disabled by reason of their service, a square deal. The vast number of men who are receiving compensation for disability attests to the efficiency of the working of the Bureau as it catches up with the tremendous task involved in handling this gigantic business, and those cases which are still unadjusted, are receiving attention.

Any man, said Mr. Burlingame, who believes that he is suffering from a service disability owes to himself, and his folks, to take measures to protect himself and them. He should unhesitatingly file a claim for compensation, and be examined by a physician of the United States Public Health Service. If he be ten per cent disabled, and can trace this disability to his military service, he is entitled to compensation for the duration of such disability. It is not a matter of charity, this medical care and attention and compensation, said the Bureau's representative, but it is a matter of right and justice that the government, through the Bureau of War Risk Insurance, should leave no stone unturned to make each disabled man know that he is being shown every attention which Congress has authorized the Bureau to extend. Why, continued he, even the teeth of the men may now receive attention. Should any ex-service man now be able to trace a disability to his military service, he may file a claim for compensation, and have his teeth examined and treated, free of expense to him, and this work is done by a local dentist.

With regard to the vitally important subject of War Risk Insurance the convention members were advised that there is no armistice with death, and that the likelihood of total and permanent disability is still present, against either of which Government War Risk Insurance affords protection. The Federal Government is extending to its former service men, and to the men now enlisted, an opportunity to secure protection for themselves and their families, at the most reasonable and liberal terms.

To those who, through ignorance or carelessness, have deprived the home-folks in peace times of the protection they carried for them in war times, by omitting to keep up the insurance, it was pointed out that all that is necessary is to sign a brief statement as to the condition of their health, and pay two premiums, one for the month following their last payment, and one for the month of reinstatement. If he has to drop his $10,000 amount he may do so. It is only necessary to reinstate the amount to be carried.

Information on any of these important subjects may be secured from the commander of the nearest Post of the American Legion, or home service section of the Red Cross, or upon inquiry at the office of Captain Max Stoddard, 324 Masonic Building, Portland, Me.

Walter C. Ladd of Maynard S. Bird & Co. has been commissioned as notary public.

Those small ads in The Courier-Gazette are read by everybody. That is why they are so popular and effective.

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

Whatever your occupation may be and how ever crowded your hours with affairs, do not fail to secure at least a few minutes every day for refreshment of your inner life with a bit of poetry.

—Charles Elliot Norton.

GO WHERE GLORY WAITS THEE
Go where glory waits thee,
But, while fame elates thee,
O still remember me!
When the praise thou meetest
To thine ear is sweetest
O then remember me!
Other arms may press thee,
Dearest friends may greet thee,
All the joys that bless thee,
Sweeter far may be,
But when friends are nearest,
And when joys are dearest,
O then remember me!

When at eve thou roarest
By the star that lovest,
O then remember me!
Think when home returning,
Bright we see thee burning,
O then remember me!
Off as summer closes,
When thine eye reposes
On its lingering roses,
Once so loved by thee,
Think of her who waits thee,
Her who made thee love them;
O then remember me!

When around the dying
Autumn leaves are lying,
O then remember me!
And at night when gazing
On the gay heart's blazing,
O still remember me!
Then should music stealing
All the soul of feeling,
To thy heart appealing,
Draw one tear from thee—
Then let memory bring thee
Strains I used to sing thee—
O then remember me!
—Thomas Moore.

THREE-TIMES-A-WEEK

Rockland, Maine, July 31, 1920.
Personally appeared Neil S. Perry, who on oath declares that he is president in the office of the Rockland Publishing Co. and that of the issue of The Courier-Gazette of July 23, 1920, there was printed a total of 5,841 copies. Before me, FRANK B. MILLER, Notary Public.

REPUBLICAN GET-TOGETHER

The Republican mass meeting at Oakland Park Friday, Aug. 6, will not only give the voters a chance to meet the candidate for governor and congressmen and to hear other prominent speakers, but will also serve as a sort of county holiday to which everybody is invited, irrespective of party. Col. Parkhurst, Congressman White, State Chairman Ham, Mrs. Guy P. Gannett and Miss Edwards will arrive about 10 a. m. and will be glad to meet all men and women who are interested in State and National politics. A band will be present, and at 12.30 there will be opened a clam and fish bake. Hot coffee will also be served free. The speaking begins about 1 o'clock. The meeting will be held rain or shine, as the pavilion can be used if the weather is not suitable for an outdoor gathering.

IN HISTORIC CHURCHES

The ambitious purpose to keep alive an interest in historic buildings is warmly to be commended. In these days of the automobile there should be larger audiences each year in attendance on the annual service held in the old German church at Waldoboro, and in the Old Church on the Hill at Thomaston. Aug. 8 is the date of the latter service, the address to be delivered by Howard C. Moody, an able attorney of that town, who saw service Overseas and will speak upon a patriotic topic, "The Heritage of Freedom." The service will be held at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, thus not conflicting with services in other parts of the county. The town of Bristol is another nearby community that is proud in the possession of the Old Walpole Church, erected in 1772 and retained in its original form, and makes a point of holding special afternoon services in it every Sunday during July and August. On the final Sunday of August it will be made an all-day meeting such as used to be held in that church in olden days, everybody being invited to attend and bring lunch for a picnic dinner. Speakers of note supply the pulpit for these occasions. Rev. Mr. Rounds of the Rockland Congregational church being the speaker tomorrow.

AS TO "MICKIE"

Numerous inquiries that come to this office regarding the whereabouts of its popular young assistant, "Mickie," may be answered by the statement that during the vacation season that ambitious gentleman has been allowed to enjoy the relaxation to which unceasing devotion to his employers of right entitled him. When the attractions of the beautiful summer out-of-doors no longer appeal to him (already he is exhibiting anxiety to "get onto his job," as he expresses it), his many friends and admirers may expect again to hear from him with reasonable regularity. Once or twice he has dropped in to deliver a message that sat upon his mind, notably that bit of wisdom uttered in Thursday's issue relative to mail order houses. "The mail order firms ain't got money enough to buy advertising space in our paper," he said in conclusion. Mickie knows the policy of The Courier-Gazette. Only the other day it declined a $150 order for advertising space sent by a mail order house. Home paper's space for the home merchant is its platform.

THAT HEALTH MEETING

Announcements have been made of a meeting to be held Sunday evening at the Universalist church, in connection with the installation in Knox county of the work of the Public Health Department. It has been decided that in the midst of the summer vacation season the difficulty of getting together the kind of an audience desired, makes it preferable to hold the meeting at a later date, and notice is hereby given to that effect. Miss Chaplin, the public health nurse, is expected to arrive on the scene of her labors today. As she will go immediately about the business of her office, the people of the county will gradually come to have personal knowledge of what the service is to mean, so that the formation at a later date of the county association will be easy to bring about. Our readers will be kept duly informed of the progress of this highly desirable work.

THOSE AROOSTOOKERS

Presque Isle is another of the enterprising towns that is organizing to celebrate with a Maine Centennial Week, which it has set for Sept. 5-10 and is laying out a program in the enthusiastic manner with which the Aroostook people go at all such matters. The dates coincide with those of the Northern Aroostook Fair and altogether the occasion is likely to attract visitors even from long distances. The committee is sending out hundreds of invitations to all parts of the country and will give every visitor a royal welcome. It is the way the Aroostook folks always do.

HARDING ALL RIGHT

Harding is a strong, clean, forthright American. He is American clear through. There is perhaps no man in public life today who more thoroughly typifies the spirit of true Americanism. Born of the soil, a toiler from boyhood, he knows the great mass of the people, the farmers, the toilers, as well as the big men of the country. He knows their needs and their requirements.

ENTERPRISING ROCKLAND

Summer visitors who had the good taste to come to Rockland, have been made particularly happy by the fact that our city has treated them to the spectacle of two glorious full moons in the month of July, to wit, on the 1st day and on the 29th.

CAPTURE AND ESCAPE

Benjamin Payson, Insane Patient, Recaptured In Warren—Escapes From Prison In Limousine.

Benjamin Payson who was committed to the State Hospital in Bangor several weeks ago, and who has twice made his escape from that institution, was recaptured last night at Frank Percy's camp on the Georges River in Warren. He had been working on a farm at Vaughn's Neck the past week, he said. Mr. Percy turned the patient over to Constable W. H. Robinson of Warren who brought him to this city late last night. Payson is now at the police station, pending the arrival of State Hospital officials.

An Overland automobile owned by Dr. L. F. Norris of the hospital staff, is supposed to have been used by Payson in making his escape July 19. Payson told Constable Robinson that he did not take the car, but the local authorities do not credit his story as the car was found last Saturday near the home of one of Payson's relatives on the outskirts of Rockland.

Payson appears to be rational enough at times, and "flighty" at others. He told the officers at the station last night that he was supervisor of the hospital in a former generation. He also told them that he should not stay there, if they carried him back. His present mental condition is said to be due to an accident to his spine, caused by a fall when he was a boy.

Concealing himself in the rear of a limousine which had been in the State Prison repository for repairs, Convict Joseph Henry made his escape from the prison yard Thursday afternoon and was still at large when this paper went to press.

The rays of the descending sun revealed the fugitive to the gatekeeper as the automobile was making the Wadsworth street turn. The car was promptly stopped at the guard's command, but the convict succeeded in making his way to the woods.

The alarm was sounded and a systematic search begun. Notices have also been sent all over the State.

Henry is said to have escaped from a penitentiary in another State. Last November he was committed to the Thomaston prison for breaking, entering and larceny, with a sentence of not more than eight nor less than four years.

At the time of his escape he wore overalls and a striped frock, but is believed to have been without that cap. He is 5 feet 8 1/2 inches tall, medium built, weighs about 152 pounds, and is dark complexioned. He has a scar on the back of his left thumb and a large scar on the back of his neck near his right ear.

CAMDEN

George R. Gardner, a former principal of Camden High School, has resigned as principal of Brunswick High to accept a position as superintendent of the schools in the union of Lisbon, Francoia, Easton, Lyman, Landaff and Sugar Hill, N. H.

Miss Alice Long of Brooklyn, N. Y., is a guest at the Stahl cottage.

Frederick Dwinall of the Talbot insurance agency has purchased the Frank Handley house.

James Legendre and family of New Orleans have opened their cottage for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Thompson of Jersey City have arrived in town for the summer.

Frank Gilmore left this week for Boston to accept a position with the Albany Construction Co.

At the annual meeting of the Knox Woolen Co. Wednesday the following officers were elected: President, Joseph W. Bowers; treasurer, C. Wilkes Babb; clerk, John F. Combs; directors, J. W. Bowers, R. J. Andrews, E. W. Adams, U. E. Leach, C. W. Babb, George A. Babb and Charles C. Wood.

"Stroller" in the Portland Evening Express prints the following: After Cyrus H. K. Curtis the donor of the Kotschmar organ in City Hall, had surprised his friends by playing the instrument at a recent concert, Dr. Irving Morgan the municipal organist congratulated him. "I had no idea you played so well, Mr. Curtis," said Dr. Morgan. "Oh, I've always had a passion for the organ," replied the great publisher. "I believe if I had stuck to it, I would have made a crackjack player."

Climate and Longevity. The general death-rate is found to increase with rising temperature and to diminish with a falling thermometer. These conclusions are a result of a study of about 400,000 deaths in New York in connection with the weather on the day of the death. The peculiarities seem to apply to all seasons. Variety, as in English or Canadian weather, is healthful and stimulating, and it is believed that some variability is as essential as proper humidity.

Not a Matter of Flavor. One who evidently speaks from experience says a girl's surprise in getting her first kiss is to find that there is no taste to it. Taste, indeed! If it were, the Lord knows there are onions enough. Where there are thrills, tickle, throbs, titillation and tremors, who in the mischief can think of taste? —Louisville Lyre.

ATLANTIC

Mrs. Sarah M., wife of William H. Burns, died suddenly Wednesday at her home in Atlantic. Mrs. Burns had not been well for several years. That morning she prepared an early breakfast for her husband, and was apparently as well as usual when he left for his work of lobster fishing at 4 a. m., but when he returned home in the afternoon she was dead. Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon, and burial was in Rose Hill cemetery.

Mrs. A. O. Gross of Deer Isle was called to Atlantic by the death of her mother, the late Mrs. Burns.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Joyce of Portland are visiting with Mrs. Edith Stacey at the Poinciana.

Frank Bridges has returned to Swan's Island and is now operating the fish stand formerly conducted by Stanley & Joyce.

A schooner laden with laths has been in Old Harbor supplying the fishermen with material for lobster traps.

Joseph F. Gilece, representing the National Board of Underwriters, was here this week on business.

Rapha Smith and family have moved into the Stanley bungalow, opposite John Kent's at Old Harbor.

George Carter was a visitor in town Tuesday.

Seth Joyce caught a fine sea salmon while hauling trawls.

The Muzzells are at their cottage at Lawson's Beach for the summer.

Harold Hart has a new up-to-the-minute Ford car.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Trask of Brewer came today from Cranberry Isle with Mr. and Mrs. Spruill and called at Edgar Trask's.

Howard R. Rich has arrived at the Rich cottage.

Mrs. Eleanor Van Horn has been having an ice cream and cake sale at Seaside hall this week.

THE WEEK IN REVIEW

Governor Coolidge's Notification

Governor Calvin Coolidge was officially notified, on the 28th of his nomination by the Republican party as Vice President, and formally accepted the nomination in his home city of Northampton, in a speech delivered in the presence of more than 10,000 people. The speech was characterized by the Governor's usual force and felicity of expression, and contained passages which might well be committed to memory by those who share the Governor's faith in Massachusetts and in the nation. The Governor reviewed tersely and endorsed the principles formulated in the Republican platform; and his speech, though differently phrased, was fully in line with the recent declarations of Senator Harding. The two men will be essential running mates in the campaign; and if elected, will be real as well as nominal partners in the Government.

Will Not Be Drafted

William Jennings Bryan flatly refused the Prohibition nomination for President, following the example of Senator La Follette who, with equal positiveness, refused to act as standard bearer for the Farmer-Labor party. In his letter of refusal, Mr. Bryan, while frankly saying that he did not know for whom he should vote this fall, declared that he expected to remain a member of the Democratic party. If Mr. Bryan had been willing to accept the nomination for President, the Rev. William A. Sunday, popularly known as "Billy Sunday," through his evangelistic campaigns, had announced his willingness to be his running mate. Mr. Bryan's refusal was a bitter disappointment to the convention, which had made its plans, and framed its platform, on the assumption that he would take the leadership.

A Huge Coal Strike

It is disheartening that, at this time when the coal shortage is so serious, there should develop a huge coal strike in Illinois, where more than one half of the bituminous coal mines are idle, and the normal daily output of from 350,000 to 400,000 tons is reduced to 100,000 tons or less. The Government wage award of last year, which was to run until 1922, is not satisfactory to the men, and this strike is designed to enforce a radical change. There are apprehensions that the strike may extend to the whole central competitive field, which takes in the States of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia, which would threaten the bituminous coal supply of the entire nation as well as Canada.

The Veterans at Saranac

The Government is quite apt to handle the questions which come before it in a large way, without regard to special needs and conditions. With necessary limitations, this course is wise and necessary. But it is possible to carry too far the ignoring of special conditions. The United States Health Service has decided upon a policy of concentration of invalid and disabled veterans in a comparatively small number of hospitals; and in pursuance of this policy, it has given the 219 veterans, suffering from tuberculosis or threatened with it, who are now at Saranac, Lake, New York orders for removal, either to New Haven, Conn., or to Fort Sill, Okla., or to Fort Bay, New Mexico, as they may choose. But Saranac Lake has been recognized for many years as a curative resort for consumptives; and 200 of the veterans flatly refuse to be moved, feeling sure that the change would be fatal. The American Legion in New York has taken up their cause and will try to secure a withdrawal of the order.

A picnic dinner was served and piano music was furnished at Mrs. Mitchell's by Miss Mary Hall, who is a talented pianist. In the afternoon the party was shown around the Coast Guard Station. Mrs. Tinker took several snap shots and they all declared they had spent a wonderful day.

Mrs. J. K. Lowe entertained Mr. and Mrs. David Mann, Mrs. Jason Kane, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wall and daughter Frances, Mr. and Mrs. H. Andrews, Miss Cora Wall, C. H. Hon. Frank L. Palmer of Saco was nominated Thursday by Gov. Milliken as state bank commissioner for a term of four years. Mr. Palmer was first appointed by Gov. Milliken in July, 1917, for a term of three years, but the last legislature amended the law so that the term is now for a period of four years. The salary is $4,000 per annum.

The Latest Wars

The Turks offered only a feeble resistance to the advance of the Greek forces in Thrace, and abandoned Adrianople on the 25th of July. The Russian Bolsheviks are reported as marching to attack the Armenians, and to join the Turkish Nationalists. French troops have taken Aleppo, and, after a severe battle with the forces of Emir Feisal "King of Syria" have occupied Damascus, but, through some accident, his letter did not reach the French commander in season to avert the battle. The situation in Ireland grows more and more serious. At Belfast, on the 24th seventeen persons were killed in riots. At Cork, a police sergeant was shot dead by masked men, as he was entering a church, and just as he was making the sign of the cross. There have been outbreaks of violence at Londonderry and Ballynahinch.

A Polish-Bolshevik Armistice. The Soviet Government of Russia has agreed to an armistice with the Poles, but it is reported that one of the conditions before entering into peace negotiations is that the Poles disarm completely, and that another condition is that General Wrangel, who has maintained a stubborn resistance to all his forces. Also, the Soviet Government alleges that many crimes have been committed by the Poles, for which Russia will hold them responsible. The reputation of the Soviet Government being what it is, it is not surprising that it should be felt that Russia really seeks, in seeming to be ready for peace negotiations, is first to reduce the Poles to the absolute helplessness, and then to impose whatever terms it pleases.

Russian Parleys With the Allies

After first rejecting the British proposal for a conference at London, the Soviet Government of Russia, has decided to accept the proposal, and arrangements are under way for such a conference. In many quarters, this action is regarded as only a skillful maneuver to achieve a quasi recognition of Soviet Russia. It is intimated that the United States will not participate in the conference, but there seems to be little disposition to acquiesce. So far, the United States has held aloof from any action which could be construed as equivalent to the recognition of the Soviet Government. When permission was given, some weeks ago, for a limited resumption of trade with Russia, it was expressly stated that it did not involve governmental recognition.

Wide Spread Outlawry

There is an alarming spread of outlawry throughout the country. Every day adds to the list of robberies by hand, in automobiles, who use revolvers freely to enforce their demands. In the old days, such crimes were perpetrated under cover of darkness, but now-a-days they are just as likely to take place in broad daylight, and they occur, not only in the large cities, but in small towns and villages, wherever the bandits know or have reason to suppose that any considerable sum of money is within their reach. They do not hesitate to commit murder, when their demands are not instantly complied with. In Chicago, for example, hold-up men operated last Monday in droves, no less than twenty five hold-ups being the official record of the day. The most daring robbery was in the early afternoon, when five bandits in an automobile, in the presence of 400 employees, descended upon a clothing factory, shot and fatally wounded the paymaster and carried off $10,000. Two of the bandits were wounded, but all escaped in the waiting car.

The success attending the introduction of Purdy Cross delicacies at Cobb's all this week has induced them to continue the demonstrations another week.

The "Zip" novelty orchestra is coming back to the Arcade Tuesday evening.

The Rockland Athletic Club is negotiating with Nate Siegel to be one of the principals of a big bout which the club is planning to pull off on the night of the firemen's muster.

The Crescent Beach dance Thursday evening was the most successful hop which has taken place there for several seasons. Everybody liked the music, and everybody wanted to attend next Thursday night's dance.

The chief's call will sound at 7:30 tonight for a meeting in connection with the firemen's muster.

The Courier-Gazette's article concerning the tearing down of the B. B. Bean blacksmith shop was read with much interest and varying emotions, but the upshot of it appears to be that somebody is mistaken as to the identity of the structure which has just been demolished. Ambrose Mills avers that Ephraim Perry must be mistaken about the building being nearly 70 years old, as he helped construct it, himself, and the work was done 43 or 44 years ago. W. H. Glover & Co. had the contract and the late Thomas Glover was foreman. Mr. Mills says: Next!

The assistant engineers of the fire department are to have a dance in the Arcade, Thursday evening, Aug. 19, with music by Marston. There will be a prize wait.

Not a few Knox county Odd Fellows will regret to learn that there is little prospect of a field day this summer.

Sumner S. Waldron has tendered his resignation as janitor of the Post Office and is now serving his notice.

The painters appear to be having a bee on Main street this week. A number of blocks and stores are receiving attention.

Everett Harrington, janitor of the Court House, wonders if anybody else in this city has as fine a bed of canvas as the one which graces the southern side of the county building premises. In former years Dr. W. H. Armstrong of Park street had no competitors in canvas culture.

The Stonington Furniture Co. is moving into its new quarters in Old Village block, Spring street, having the large store which was vacated by the Richards Co-operative Co. Charles Smith is assisting Mr. Marcus, the proprietor.

Lafayette Messenger who has been occupying the Alfred Murray tenement on North Main street has moved to Rumford Falls, where he will be employed in a pulp mill.

Men who served in the Army during the World War can obtain application blanks for Purple Heart medals by calling at the Rockland National Bank and inquiring for Joseph Robinson. The medals are well worth having.

A Masonic mark indicating membership in Tyagar Chapter, R. A. M., Philippi, West Virginia, was found on the street a few days ago, and is in the possession of Dr. J. A. Richan, Elm street.

Statements made in its advertising columns "The Courier-Gazette" means shall be entirely dependable, but the Rockland Hardware Co. got ahead of it in Thursday's issue when it announced a "30 per cent discount" on screen doors and then specified a $2.75 door for $2.48, a $3.75 door for $3.38, and so on. Ex-Alderman French who did the figuring acknowledges that his arithmetic slipped a cog. "The laugh is on me," says Harry, and in this issue sets the figures right.

BERRY PICKERS, BEWARE!

[For The Courier-Gazette]
One lovely day I took a ride
Out in the country fair,
And thought I'd pick a wild bouquet,
Of berries that grew there;
But everywhere I changed to go,
A-riding round about,
I saw a big and staring sign—
"Berry Pickers Please Keep Out!"
When I had gone a hundred miles,
The sign nearly bustled,
I turned my auto back for home,
Feeling quite disgusted;
On my front lawn I'll set a sign,
You'll see it there, no doubt,
"Berry Pickers Please Keep Out!"
Rockland, July 30. —Katie B. H. McInnes.

The regular meeting of Claremont Commandery will be held Monday, Aug. 2.

Alfred Prescott is driving for the American Railway Express Co., having decided not to return to Akron, Ohio.

Rockland has another new industry. C. H. Moor shipped two barrels of popcorn by parcel post to North Haven this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Record, who have been at the Lindsey House for a few weeks, are now tenants of the Sprague house, Limerock street and will soon be joined by their two sons. Mrs. Coppin will continue to reside and teach there until her return to New York in October.

Fred A. Clark has sold his cottage at Crescent Beach to Arthur Smalley.

The double tenement on Maple street, owned by Mrs. M. E. Faunce, and occupied by Edward Ahern and William H. Rhodes, has been sold to Alderman John M. Richardson and Charles G. Kiff, who will occupy it as soon as the present tenants have found other quarters.

The serenity of the Court House was disturbed yesterday forenoon when one of the office-holders found it necessary to eject one of the city's best known Democratic workers. No blood was shed, but considerable language was.

A popular Rockland letter carrier has been pestered by nagging friends ever since last Sunday when he was the victim of a mishap which should have entitled him to sincere sympathy. "I like this," the family was planning a picnic at Ash Point, and the dinner was to include lobster stew in honor of the guests from out of town, who only knew by reputation what a real lobster stew is like. Taking time by the forelock Mr. and Mrs. Lester Carrier "picked out" the meat Saturday night, putting the shells in one barrel and the meat in another. "I'm not going to have those old shells around the house, smelling," said Mr. Lester Carrier, "when we go down tomorrow I will throw the bag away in some good place." True to his plans, when the woods were reached, Mr. Lester Carrier gave the bag a mighty heave. "Good riddance to bad rubbish," quoth he. An hour later the kettle was boiling merrily at Crockett's Beach, and preparations were made to prepare the lobster stew. Probably you have guessed it ere this, but the letter carrier received the surprise of his life when he opened the bag supposed to contain lobster meat, and found only the shells. A few miles back in the woods many pounds of delicious lobster meat were decaying under the heat of the July sun. And that's why Morris has a new motto—"Look before you throw."

Rev. W. L. Pratt has been elected clerk of the New England Baptist Conference which meets at Ocean Park, Old Orchard the week in August, in connection with the New England Baptist School of Methods.

No assurance has yet been received that Rockland will have warships or airships for Centennial Week, but William S. Healey, American Legion Day chairman, is keeping the wires and the mails hot with his efforts to get both. Mr. Healey received a telegram from Senator Fernald Thursday, stating that his request to the Acting Secretary of the Navy had been forwarded to the commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet for compliance if possible. Mr. Healey has also received a letter from Adjutant General P. C. Harris of the War Department, stating that his (Mr. Healey's) letter of July 17, to Brigadier General H. M. Lord, had been forwarded to the adjutant general's office, and referred to the Army Recruiting Officer at Portland, who, according to Adjutant General Harris, has authority to make arrangements for a suitable War Department exhibit.

The county commissioners go to Spruce Head next Wednesday where they will conduct a hearing on the petition of 19 at 10 a. m. on the petition of Harvey W. Cline and eight others, who ask to have placed in safe and suitable condition the highway beginning on the western side of Keag Harbor, thence westerly to the St. George line, a total distance of about 4½ miles. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon of the same day they will give a hearing in the Chamberlain hall upon the petition of A. E. Carle and 15 others who ask that action be taken in regard to the highway beginning at the East Friendship bridge, extending easterly to the St. George line, a total distance of four or five miles. The same petitioners ask the commissioners to take action in regard to the road beginning at the Pleasant Point schoolhouse, extending westerly and southerly to the residence of Alvah Carle, a total distance of about three miles. It is claimed by the petitioners that these pieces of highway are neither safe nor convenient for public travel.

BASHFUL BO BAGS BEN'S BOOTS

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:— On Wednesday afternoon of this week a gentleman "Bo" called at George Davis' door on Rankin street for a few. He got it, and last night he came back for more and received it. I removed my shoes on my back steps and put on my rubber boots and prepared to wash out a henhouse. Mrs. Whitehouse was busy in the raspberry patch when this same guy blew down on the rear of our house, unnoticed by us, but was seen by one of our neighbors to try the screen door, go into the stable and come out. By this time he became weary, for he was seen to sit down on the top step to rest. In deep meditation he arose and accidentally took hold of my shoes, they really giving away as I did not have them nailed down, and involuntarily my shoes were safely tucked under his blouse. We don't know which course he took from here as he did not hail us, so good-bye old shoes.

We are still riding away cabbage plants. Benjamin S. Whitehouse. Rockland, July 29.

POISON IVY

Can Be Distinguished From the Virginia Creeper By Its Three Leaves.

"Look out for that poison ivy," is an oft repeated cry these picnic days.

To know the poison ivy is to avoid, yet to adhere to it for its sturdy self-defense, says a communication to the National Geographic Society. The poison ivy is a member of the sumac family, having as relatives the vinegar tree, the smooth sumac, and the smoke-bush. Its range reaches as far north as Nova Scotia, as far south as Florida and Texas, and as far west as Utah and British Columbia.

Many people confuse the Virginia creeper with the rascally poison ivy, a confusion which nothing but carelessness in remembering the characteristics of plants could bring about; for the Virginia creeper is careful always to put forth five leaves where the poison ivy has only three.

The Virginia creeper is condemned as being poison ivy often than poison ivy is. Many a Virginia creeper has reached the untimely end of matted execution by the error, and not a few people have received a painful reminder of their mistake when they have failed to observe that three leaves spell "poison" in the ivy vine and five leaves "friend" in the creeper.

The poison ivy, or poison oak, as some call it, is a prodigious climber, inclined to run over everything in sight. Even the oak sometimes is almost smothered when the poison ivy reaches its topmost branches and spreads its dense foliage over them.

It begins to blossom in May and June, its flowers being small, fragrant, yellowish green, and arranged in yellowish clusters. Toward fall these develop into smooth, white, wax-like berries that often hold fast the winter through. The three leaves are shining green, short-stemmed, and oval-pointed.

The poison of this ivy is a powerful, non-volatile oil which penetrates the pores of the human skin and develops hosts of tiny itching blisters, followed by a burning swelling of the affected parts.

While we very naturally dislike a plant that poisons us, we should not, yet if we investigate the reason for its poison, we discover that a vast number of plants develop poisons and near-poisons, and when we look over the list we find that we would be rather badly off without them. It is true that most of them are poisonous only when eaten, and that few are poisonous to the touch, but they have all developed these qualities in self-defense.

Some of them store their poison in their seeds, others in their root-stocks, and others in their roots to protect their progeny from harm. They do not go about looking for trouble or seeking, like the devil, whom they may destroy; but they are prepared to resist invasion of the rights of their children. Nux vomica and acornite are two

FRIENDS AMAZED AT HER RECOVERY

Suffered Fifteen Years From Indigestion But Feels Fine Since Taking Tanlac.

"All my friends have been expressing surprise at my wonderful improvement in health, and when they ask me how I account for it I tell them it is entirely due to Tanlac," said Mrs. Anna Moreau, of 347 Hayward street, Manchester, N. H.

"I suffered so badly from indigestion for fifteen years," she continued, "that no matter what I ate it just hurt me. I would eat and eat and eat, and I would vomit so I could scarcely get my breath. I hardly ever knew what it was to get a good night's sleep, and frequently had to sit up for hours in my efforts to get relief. I was subjected to frequent headaches that completely prostrated me, and sometimes I got so dizzy that I was in danger of falling. I had intense pains across the small of my back, especially if I attempted to stoop over. I had so little appetite that I seldom went to the table at all, and I became very weak and miserable and discouraged."

"But Tanlac soon changed all that, for it gave me such an appetite that I felt hungry all the time. I found that I could eat whatever I wished without suffering from gas or heartburn or pains in the stomach. I am never troubled with headaches or dizzy spells now and the pains in the back have disappeared altogether. I sleep so well at night that I have to be wakened in the morning, and I am feeling stronger than I have for several years."

Tanlac is sold in Rockland by Corner Drug Store, F. M. White & Co., Vinalhaven, Whitney & Brackett, Thomaston, W. K. Jordan, South Warren, H. L. Robbins Union, Wm. E. Sheerer, Tenants' Harbor, Knox Cooperage Co., West Rockport and by leading druggists in every town—adv.

of many such illustrations that might be cited.

Others develop alkaloids, like the nicotine of tobacco, the quinine of the cinchona tree, and the theine of tea, to protect themselves. Strychnine, digitalin and a hundred and one indispensable drugs that are poisonous in overdose are a gift of the plant world to man as a by-product of plant preparations for self-defense.

And so, when the poison ivy learned to give off its poison by contact rather than through its own destruction, it simply went a step further than its neighbors. It has arranged its plans of defense, so that it can wage war without first being eaten. In that respect it meets the problem in the same way as the thistle and the thorn, although it fights by subtle stealth than open warfare.

This is a French almanach which was first published in 1763 and gives genealogical particulars concerning all the sovereign houses of Europe, the mediatorial families of Germany, and many of the European princely and ducal houses not of sovereign rank. NORTHPORT CAMPMEETING

Prominent Speakers Are Engaged For Last Week in August.

The dates for the annual week of campmeetings of Wesleyan Grove Campmeeting Association at Northport have been announced, Aug. 23 to 28, inclusive. Speakers of wide reputation have been engaged for the week and some most interesting services will be held.

Sunday services are held during August in the auditorium at 10:30 a. m. clergymen from the various Maine or out of the State churches officiating. The following statement has been issued by Rev. A. E. Morris:

"To read the list of names of the speakers selected, is to be assured of interesting and profitable services. Representative men of four denominations are included. Every one of these ministers is of unquestioned ability, and will bring a message well worth hearing."

"One essential feature for success is attendance. Without religious services Northport would lose much of its attractiveness. To spend one hour in the forenoon of the Lord's day, in worship at the auditorium should be considered a privilege. This is the third year of the present plan of management, but the final decision as to the continuance of Sunday services for another year is not with the trustees of the Camp Meeting Association, but with the persons directly interested, and for whom the services are provided. During the years 1918 and 1919, the collections at the services have fallen far short of covering the necessary expenses. Is that experience to be repeated in 1920?"

"The following clergymen will officiate: Aug. 1, Rev. Irving B. Mower, D. D. Secretary Baptist convention of Maine. Aug. 8, Rev. Charles W. Martin, pastor Methodist church, Belfast. Aug. 15, Captain Herbert T. Oldman, Salvation Army, Bangor. Aug. 22, Rev. Thomas F. Fessenden, D. D. pastor Ashbury Methodist church, Pittsburgh, Pa. Aug. 29, Rev. Albert E. Morris, pastor First Methodist church, Bangor."

SOME FARMING FACTS

Which Have To Do With Knox and Lincoln Counties.

Philip Park of Jefferson exhibited some of his Aberdeen Angus cattle at the meeting of the Maine Livestock Breeders' Association at the Abbott Farm in Augusta. Much interest is shown over the State in Mr. Park's breed, and we are very sure that his work will do our own counties a great deal of good. He has, as one of his employees, Harry C. Morrill, who was at one time the manager for Dr. F. W. Jackson of Jefferson, and later for Dr. L. W. Hart of Hope. He is acknowledged to be one of the most enthusiastic beef cattle men in the northern part of this Farm Bureau territory.

Ralph W. Davis of Friendship has recently bought the entire herd of Ayrshires owned by Mrs. D. T. Bearmore, East Waldoboro. This herd has been carefully bred from the Maple Grove Farm strain, owned by Dr. J. N. News of Auburn, and has in it some good individuals.

Round Top Farm in Damariscotta is starting in the dairy business. As foundation stock, several cows have been bought from the Summit Farms at Davidson.

Farmers will be well repaid, when in the vicinity, to call at the Maine State Prison Farm at Warren, where there are some fine Guernsey cattle imported by the late W. T. Haines of Waterville.

Two orchard dusting demonstrations have been held this last month; one on the farm of John Andrews, Jefferson, where about 150 trees were dusted in 15 minutes; the other on the farm of Jesse Calderwood in Union, where 119 trees were dusted in 25 minutes. The demonstration in Union was particularly well attended and the people were very much pleased, particularly because of the rapidity with which the work is done and the apparent effectiveness of the dusting.—Farm Bureau News.

Those small ads in The Courier-Gazette are read by every body. That is why they are so popular and effective.

PARK THEATRE

"A Cumberland Romance" which has its final showing today is filled with strong dramatic situations of which Mary Miles Minter, the youthful movie star makes the most. As Easter, a flower of the Cumberlands, she meets Clayton, a man from the city, while she is being borne down a mountainside astride a bull, with two sacks of grit for a saddle. Clayton is entranced by the mountain girl. Meantime, Sherd Raines, a young mountaineer, who aspires to be a circuit rider, presses his suit with Easter. But the education of the city man and his difference from those around her have fascinated Easter and she will have nothing to do with her mountain lover. "Pay" Hicks her father, is in hiding from the "revenuers" who seek him for shooting one of their number. He sees Easter and the "furriner," talking together and vows to kill Clayton, but is stopped by Sherd, who literally beats religion into the old "moon-shiner" with his fists. Then Sherd himself has a stiff battle to fight with his own soul. Easter says good-bye to Clayton after he has told her that he is leaving the next day, then follows him and falls at his feet in a tempest of wild emotion. Clayton amazed at her frank confession of love, decides to remain, and believes that he loves the girl. Sherd talks with the city man, sees his intentions are honorable, and arranges for the marriage, to which Clayton's mother and sister are invited. The marriage scene in the old mountain cabin is a bit of pure drama. The elemental emotions of the mountaineer father are unleashed and the incidents develop rapidly, ending in one of the most astounding climaxes yet put into a motion picture.

A famous actor and a famous drama are seen on the screen Monday and Tuesday, when Lionel Barrymore stars in "The Copperhead." The play created a sensation in New York two years ago. At the outbreak of the Civil War, excitement runs high in Millville and it is evident there are many southern sympathizers in town. Lem Tollard being their leader. Milt Shanks decides to enlist, but he receives a letter from President Lincoln asking him to come to Washington. He complies and becomes a member of the United States Secret Service, charged with the duty of keeping his eye upon the copperheads in his locality. He then plays a double role and when his son Joey and wife upbraid him for his lack of patriotism he tells them he is a man of peace and that the war was an unjust war. Joey enlists and goes to the front, while Milt is publicly derided by the children of Millville. He gains the confidence of Tollard and learns that he is about to warn the rebels that Federal reinforcements are coming. Milt consults with Brother Andrew, a minister who cooperates to frustrate Tollard's plans, the result being that Tollard's band is attacked by troops and several killed. Milt, who plays his game sternly, suffers arrest with Tollard and among the troops who witness his apparent disgrace in his son Joe. Both are court-martialed and their sentence of death is commuted to life imprisonment by President Lincoln. Long years of patient sacrifice ensue, however, before Milt's true standing in the Civil War becomes known.—Adv.

Great Men Actuated by Dreams.

Almost all the great characters of Herodotus believed that dreams were of supernatural origin. Kings resigned their scepters, Cambryses assassinated his brother, priests attained great powers as commanders, cities which had been destroyed were restored by men who changed their plans and performed these acts because warned, as they supposed, in dreams, and with the invasion of Greece by Xerxes such night visions had much to do.
